The Honorable John Boehner Speaker of the House U.S. House of Representatives Washington, DC 20515

The Honorable Mitch McConnell Majority Leader U.S. Senate Washington, DC 20510

The Honorable Nancy Pelosi Minority Leader U.S. House of Representatives Washington, DC 20515

The Honorable Harry Reid Minority Leader U.S. Senate Washington, DC 20510

Dear Speaker Boehner, Leader McConnell, Leader Pelosi and Leader Reid:

As members of the Trade Benefits America Coalition, we write to urge passage of bipartisan Trade Promotion Authority (TPA) legislation early this year.

As you know, TPA has long played an important role in both the negotiation and Congressional consideration of high-standard trade agreements. Every U.S. free trade agreement except one – the U.S-Jordan FTA – or 14 agreements were concluded pursuant to TPA, as well as the GATT Tokyo Round and WTO Uruguay Round agreements. When TPA was not in effect from 1994 to 2002, the United States fell behind our foreign competitors that negotiated trade agreements advantaging their companies, farmers and workers over ours in international markets.

TPA was last written in 2002 and expired in 2007. Since then, new trade issues have emerged for U.S. businesses and farmers in today's global marketplace. Congress and the President have a prime opportunity to work together to modernize and pass 21st century TPA to help address those issues and support U.S. economic growth and jobs.

TPA is particularly important now, given ongoing efforts to close the Trans-Pacific Partnership negotiations and the Administration's goal of then seeking its Congressional approval this year. TPA is also critical to advancing the broader U.S. trade agenda, including the ongoing talks on the Transatlantic Trade and Investment Partnership, the Trade in Services Agreement, and an agreement to eliminate tariffs on environmental goods. These initiatives hold tremendous potential to open new markets for U.S. companies, farmers and workers and support growth and jobs. With 95 percent of potential customers outside the United States and more than one in five American jobs supported by trade, we need to seize the opportunities they present.

We believe it is important and urgent for Congress to pass bipartisan TPA legislation to: (1) strengthen U.S. negotiators' hands to secure solid results in U.S. trade negotiations; (2) demonstrate to the countries we are negotiating with that Congress supports high-standard and market-opening outcomes in these negotiations; and (3) help facilitate Congressional review and consideration of these agreements.

For all these reasons, we urge you, your colleagues in the House and Senate, and the President and his Administration to work together to enact TPA early this year. We are eager to work with you, and we will continue to work hard to help pass TPA and achieve solid results in the ongoing U.S. trade negotiations.

Sincerely,

Members of the Trade Benefits America Coalition (see list below)
